Sen. Brown hosts eighth annual free ice cream social

LANSING – To thank residents in the 16th Senate District, Sen. Cameron S. Brown, R-Fawn River Township, is hosting his eighth annual old-fashioned ice-cream social at his family's farmhouse in Sturgis.

"It is hard to believe it's been eight years since the first ice-cream social," Brown said. "It continues to be a great opportunity to meet with constituents on a Sunday afternoon down on the farm."

Brown has held the event every year since first being elected to the Legislature in 1998.

"As I have discovered over the past several years, this is a perfect way for me to spend time with neighbors, friends and those I represent in Lansing," Brown said. "I owe so much to the people who elected me, and this is my way of thanking them."

The free ice-cream social will feature a variety of ice cream flavors including strawberry, vanilla, chocolate and butter pecan – as well as sodas for ice cream floats.

The event is scheduled to take place Sunday, July 30 from 2 to 5 p.m. Brown's family farmhouse is located at 29057 E. Lafayette Road, just east of Sturgis, on the southeast corner of E. Lafayette and Big Hill roads.

"I'm counting on the residents of Branch, Hillsdale, Lenawee and St. Joseph counties to eat a record amount of ice cream this year," Brown said. "I hope everyone comes out to the farm on July 30th – and I hope they come back for seconds!"
